The Mystery OF Carney-Croft

By JOSEPH BROWN COOKE

(Copyright, 1907, by Story Press Corporation.) CHAPTER XVIII.

The Recall of the Wanderer. I did not come down to breakfast next day, and when luncheon was served Miss Carney remained away to be with Miss Weston, who was confined to her room, if not to her bed.

At dinner, which was a formal affair in honor of the rector and his wife, Miss Carney greeted me cordially and unaffectedly, but, beyond an evanescent flush that lighted up her face, and vanished as quickly as it came, she gave no sign that my to-morrows of the night before had made the slightest impression upon her mind. She was superbly gowned, and her manner, while natural and entirely unconstrained, impressed me as being in a way, unusually thoughtful and serious; yet at times her face fairly glowed with the contented, satisfied expression of one whose cup of happiness was filled and overflowing.

I knew what it meant, for I could no longer hide the truth from myself. If I would, and yet I even then strove to devise a plan by which I could take myself away and out of her life so that in time her heart would again be free.

I did this in good faith, for, realizing my unworthiness as I did and knowing well that many circumstances had conspired to give her an exalted opinion of me and my abilities, which, otherwise, she never would have reached, I felt it my duty to step aside and not stand in the way of the far greater conquest that she was surely destined to make.

No tongue can tell the extent to which I regretted my act of temporary weakness on the previous evening, and I cursed my indiscretion in taking advantage of her hour of sorrow and despair when I should have been strong enough to withstand the tempter, if only by virtue of the great and ever increasing magnitude of my devotion. That she knew it now there could be no doubt, and I knew with equal certainty that she returned my love with all the ardor of her great warm heart.

Mr. Arthur Sedgewick, the rector, proved to be a jovial sort of an individual, of the florid type and port wine complexion, while his wife was a demure little woman who regarded him with unconcealed admiration and whose greatest satisfaction in life was derived from half-stifled exclamations of mock horror at his constant unconventional sallies and jests.

"So you saw all the plays in New York?" he asked, as the conversation imperceptibly took a theatrical turn. "Oh, yes!" exclaimed Miss Carney, in almost her childish enthusiasm. "We went every night and to all the matinees, too. We had not been in an English-speaking country—in so long that we fairly reveled in the theater and we even saw Maud Adams four times."

"You like her, then," I remarked, for want of something better to say, but feeling it my duty to show an interest clearly at variance with the true object of my thoughts.

"Now, Mr. Ware, that is altogether too bad!" returned Miss Carney, in an obviously assumed tone of badinage. "You said that in exactly the way that the traveler at sea greeted his roommate one morning, when he observed politely, but with about as much enthusiasm as you yourself have just shown, 'Good morning, old man, I hope you are well; not that I care a rap, but just to start the conversation!'"

The rector's wife looked properly shocked, while her illegitimate lord laughed uproariously and cried:

"I heard that story when I was in college, Miss Carney, but unless my memory fails me, the wording was somewhat different."

"I expurgated it for your especial benefit, sir," returned Miss Carney solemnly and then, in reply to my question, she added:

"I think Miss Adams is just too sweet and dainty for anything. Is it really true that she is married?"

"It has been rumored that she is married to her manager," I replied, "but I hardly think it possible, for they are almost never together. You know, she spends her summers in Massachusetts while he is in London, and just as soon as he returns in the autumn, she always starts for the west with the 'Little Minister.'"

"Morcy!" exclaimed the rector's wife, in unfeigned astonishment, while we all laughed in spite of ourselves; and the reverend gentleman fell into a violent fit of coughing and dropped his fork on the floor. When the general levity caused by my remark had subsided somewhat, and he was able to speak, he explained: "The 'Little Minister,' my dear, is a play, and not a man. I must take you to see it the next time we are in town."

"Is it a biblical play?" asked Mrs. Sedgewick with interest. "Oh, dear, no," replied Miss Carney. "Just the ordinary sort of a play, with a man and a woman and a whole lot of pathos and comedy sandwiched in and spread around. But it is very sweet and enjoyable. Haven't you read the book?"

"No," returned Mrs. Sedgewick seriously. "I am so absorbed in E. P. Roe's works just now that I haven't time for anything else. Don't you think he is a wonderful writer?"

"I'm ashamed to confess that I've never read him at all," said Miss Carney sweetly, "but I hope to, some day, however."

"Mrs. Sedgewick thinks that I only care for biblical plays," broke in the rector, hurriedly, as if to forestall any discussion of his wife's favorite author, "and I do think that good productions of that sort should be encouraged and supported. The stage and the pulpit go hand in hand in educating the masses, and plays that direct the mind toward nobler things are worthy of every commendation and the approval of all good citizens. Many a man, who never gave a thought to the Bible, has been led to a careful study of the Scriptures after witnessing a stirring drama founded on Scriptural history and presented with proper regard to accuracy and detail."

"I am sure that is so!" exclaimed Miss Carney, as a mischievous light came into her eyes. "I remember once, when we were coming away from a most intensely interesting production of 'Ben-Hur,' overhearing two people engaged in a heated discussion as to whether the Book of Hezekiah was historical or prophetic. I don't suppose the thought had ever entered their heads before, and I matter slowly in my mind and trying to determine the proper course to pursue.

My elgar was nearly burned out and I was on the point of going to my room when a shadow fell across the railing in front of me and Miss Carney stood by my side.

"I wondered if you would be here," she said, nervously. "I wanted to see you, for there is something I forgot to say to you last night."

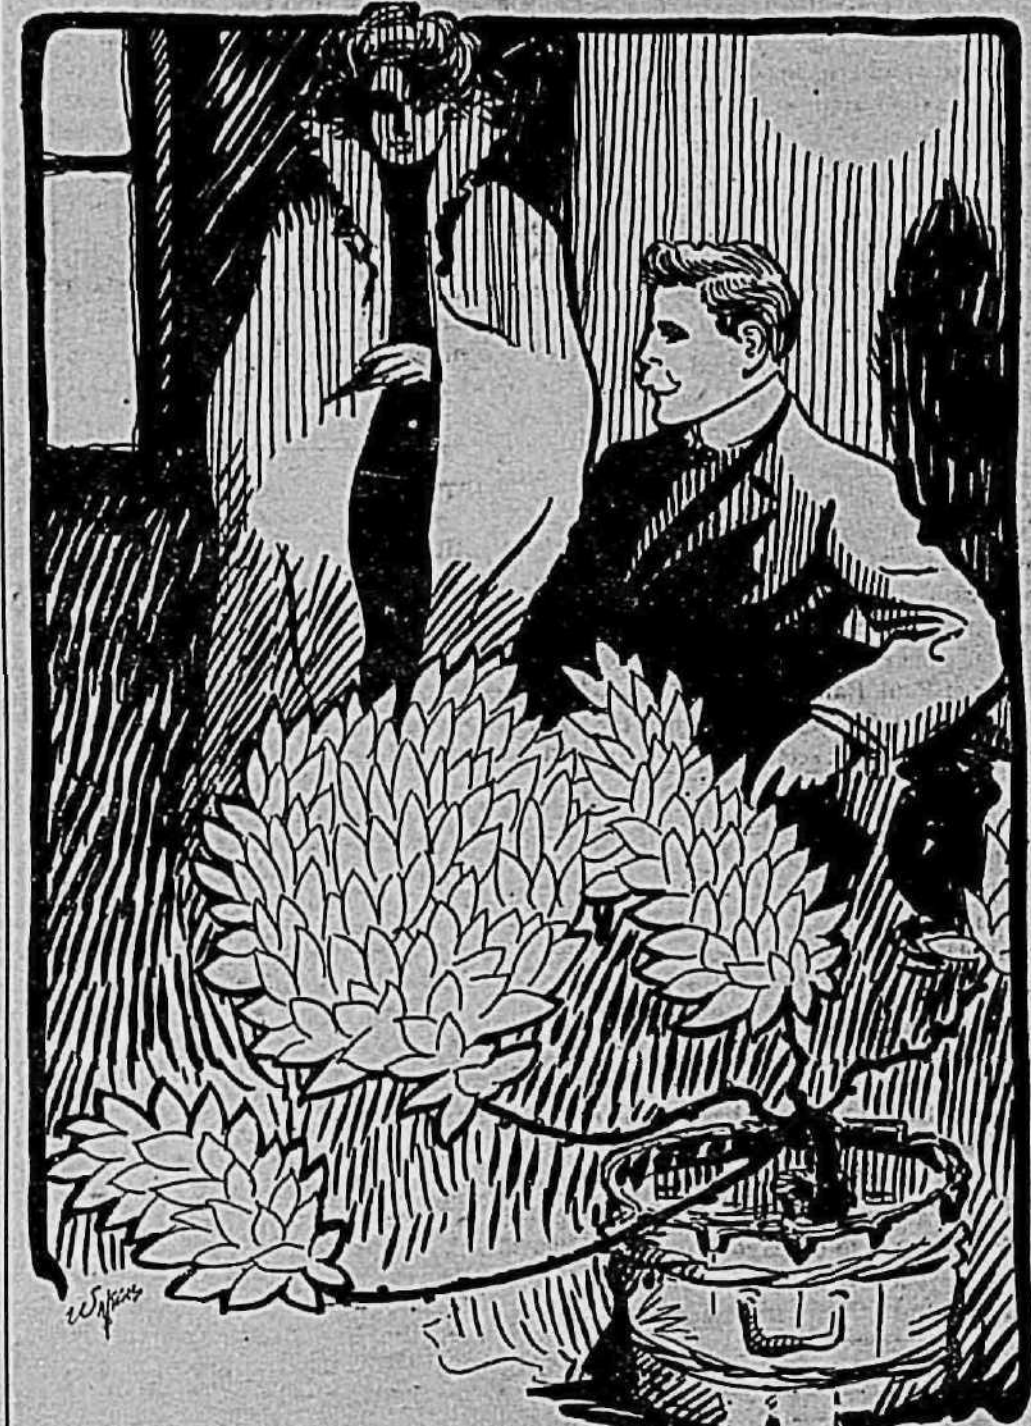

She had slipped a long coat of dainty brocaded stuff over her dinner dress and, as she stood in the light of the drawing-room window, she made a picture worthy the brush of the greatest genius that ever lived.

"I won't sit down, thank you," she continued, interlocking her fingers and playing with her rings as if greatly agitated. "You know, Annie is growing steadily worse, and the doctor from the village says she must have a nurse, so I have telegraphed for two to come at once. Oh! I thought that dinner would never end."

She seemed to feel the chilliness of the night air, but, declining my offer to get her an additional wrap, she drew the fur trimmed collar of her cloak more closely about her neck, and went on hurriedly:

"You remember I once told you that Annie and Jack, my brother, had some sort of a disagreement just before he went away and that he left this country because of it. Well, Annie told me some time ago that I was entirely wrong in my understanding of the matter, and I have wanted to tell you all about it so many times, only I could never bring myself to speak of it."

She paused, and I could see that she was weeping softly, but I had myself well in hand, and even behave always meant to look it up myself, but I have never done so. Won't you tell me about it, Mr. Sedgewick?"

"Hezekiah—Hezekiah," mused the rector, puckering up his forehead and rubbing his chin thoughtfully. "You know that is a book to which we seldom refer, but—er—strictly speaking, Miss Carney, I feel that it should be regarded—er—in the main as—er—historical—although some authorities do—er—I believe—er—claim—er—"

A merry laugh from Miss Carney interrupted this learned speech and her roguish eyes fairly beamed with glee at the momentary discomfiture of her guest, who had recovered himself in an instant and exclaimed:

"I am afraid you are incorrigible, Miss Carney, but I did not think you would be so cruel to me of all persons."

A merry laugh from Miss Carney interrupted this learned speech and her roguish eyes fairly beamed with glee at the momentary discomfiture of her guest, who had recovered himself in an instant and exclaimed:

"I am afraid you are incorrigible, Miss Carney, but I did not think you would be so cruel to me of all persons."

"I expected you would refer me to Mr. Ware for my answer or I shouldn't have dared to be so rude, but I thought it only courteous to put the question to you first of all."

As soon as dinner was over she excused herself for a moment to visit Miss Weston and then joined the other ladies in the drawing-room, leaving Mr. Sedgewick and me to our cigars and benedictine. I fear I made a poor companion, for my thoughts were far away and I realized that, like myself, but with greater success, Miss Carney had been wearing an air of forced gaiety and good spirits all the evening.

fore I could speak, she resumed slowly:

"You saw Jack when he returned, Mr. Ware, and you must know how I feel about it all, but since Annie has told me that he went away only because, when she knew of the nature of her disease and that her condition was hopeless, she broke the engagement between them and insisted upon his leaving her in the hope that his love would finally die out, I cannot but look upon the matter in a different light. That is why I have tried to do everything in my power for Annie, for, while at first I merely valued her as a friend, I now love her as a sister, but I have never been able to bring myself to a point where I could condone Jack's behavior. He has my sympathy, of course, but he has no reason to follow the course he has and few or no excuses can be made for him."

Her feelings overcame her at last and, wiping away her tears, she sank into the chair that I had left and continued, plaintively:

"Annie speaks of him now almost all the time, and the doctor asked me about it, and when I told him she said that if Jack could come to her at once it might do her a world of good. I know it is a dreadful risk to take in many ways, for Annie did not see him when he was here before, and has no idea of the depths to which he has sunk, but perhaps he would realize his position and do better with her. What do you think about it?"

"I hardly know what to say," I replied. "Have you spoken to Miss Weston about sending for him?"

"Oh, yes," she returned, "and I don't know what to do at all. Whenever I speak of Jack it only throws her into a hysterical state, and just as soon as she thinks I am out of hearing she begins to say those dreadful things I told you about. I am afraid it is a matter we will have to decide for ourselves, Mr. Ware." (TO BE CONTINUED.)

NEGRO MURDERER LYNCHED

CITIZENS OF CUMBERLAND, MD., METE OUT SWIFT JUSTICE.

Jail Door Battered In, and Colored Desperado Kicked to Death by Crowd.

Cumberland, Md.—William Burns (colored), who fatally shot Policeman August Banter Thursday night, was taken from the jail early Sunday morning by a mob and shot and kicked to death.

This was the first lynching in the history of Cumberland, and it is condemned by few of the citizens.

The shooting of Policeman Banter by Burns, who was a desperado, while the latter was resisting arrest, created a great deal of excitement, owing to the excellent reputation of the officer and his well-known kindly disposition. His death on Saturday morning was followed by threats against the negro, these coming as much from those of his own race as from the whites. Few, however, seem to have thought a lynching possible and the police paid no attention to the rumors that were afloat.

Only Deputy Sheriff Adam Pendley was at the jail when, after midnight, a crowd of fewer than a hundred men, some of whom were disguised in one way or another, appeared and demanded the keys. These being refused, a telegraph pole was used as a battering ram and entrance to the building was forced. Other negroes in neighboring cells were careful to guide the lynchers to that of Burns, and here again the battering ram was used.

The lynchers found their victim crouched behind his cot, and seizing him by the feet, they dragged him downstairs and into the street, where, within a few yards of the entrance to the jail Burns was kicked and shot to death.

SUES PLATT FOR DIVORCE.

Miss Catherine Wood Takes New Tack in Her Litigation.

New York.—Mae Catherine Wood, the former government clerk who has been suing United States Senator Thomas C. Platt for several years, Monday brought action in the supreme court for absolute divorce from the senator, alleging that she had been married to him in the Fifth Avenue hotel, New York, in 1901.

J. D. Lee, representing the plaintiff, announced the action as "Platt against Platt," and he said the motion was for the purpose of framing an issue. He said he wanted the details to become generally known.

John B. Stanchfield, who appeared for Senator Platt, asked that the matter be heard in private by a referee. He said Senator Platt was never married to Miss Wood, and therefore there was no ground for divorce. Justice Seabury reserved decision.

Has Killed Fourteen Men.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—D. D. Edwards, on trial for the murder of Sam Brook, a negro, made a startling statement under cross-examination Thursday. He was asked by the attorney general if he had killed any one previous to the killing of Brooks. "I have shot and probably killed 14 men in my time," said Edwards.

He said that a majority of the killings occurred in the Kentucky mountains and during the labor strike in Chicago.

Dr. and Mrs. Rowland Acquitted.

Raleigh, N. C.—The jury in the Rowland murder trial Sunday morning returned a verdict of acquittal. Dr. and Mrs. David Rowland were charged with poisoning the woman's former husband, Charles R. Strange.

Cald MacLean's Release Near.

Tangier.—The British government has accepted the bandit Ralsull's reduced terms for Cald Sir Harry MacLean's release, the principal items being $150,000 ransom and British protection for Ralsull and his family.

ASK CONGRESS FOR WATERWAY.

Resolutions Adopted at Memphis—Next Convention in Chicago.

Memphis, Tenn.—After passing resolutions indorsing the ship channel project and calling upon congress for an appropriation sufficient to secure a 14-foot canal from the lakes to the Gulf of Mexico through the route already selected by army engineers, the deep waterway convention adjourned Saturday afternoon.

The next meeting of the association will be held in Chicago. Representatives of New Orleans, who have been conducting a vigorous campaign, withdrew the name of that city in favor of Chicago, and the latter city was selected by acclamation. It is generally understood that an agreement was reached whereby New Orleans will have the convention in 1909.

UNITE TO FIGHT LOW FARES.

Railroads of Northwest Begin Action for Permanent Injunction.

Sioux Falls, S. D.—All leading railroads having lines in South Dakota Thursday afternoon commenced a united action in the United States court, this city, for a permanent injunction preventing the state board of railroad commissioners from putting into effect October 15 an order reducing passenger rates in the state from three to two and one-half cents a mile. The commission was temporarily restrained from putting the new rate into effect pending a hearing from Judge Carlund October 29 on the application for a permanent injunction.

SHOWERED WITH MOLTEN METAL.

Four Men Killed and Thirty Horribly Injured at Butler, Pa.

Butler, Pa.—An explosion caused by the upsetting of the metal pot in a cupola of the Standard Steel company here late Sunday night caused the death of four men, fatally injured 20 and seriously injured ten others. Nearly all the men were foreigners. The large wheel plant was demolished causing a loss estimated at $100,000. The condition of the 30 men injured is pitiable. Although still alive, the features of a majority are mutilated beyond recognition. The hot metal was showered over them causing horrible injuries.

JUDGE FAINTS ON THE BENCH.

Collapses When About to Sentence Minnesota Man to Death.

Bemidji, Minn.—Peter Mathieson, on trial for killing John Johansen near Tenstrike last February, was found guilty of murder in the first degree. Judge McClenahan fainted when about to pronounce sentence and was carried from the courtroom. He was revived and returned and sentenced the convicted man to hang within 90 days.

Wild Trip for Ballonist.

Coshocton, O.—Caught in a gale of wind, Frank Fuhr, a Coshocton aeronaut, was driven a distance of 40 miles, 5,000 feet above the earth and landed safely ten miles north of this city at seven o'clock Thursday night. Fuhr had been showing the Coshocton airship at the Licking county fair and at 4:30 in the afternoon ascended for an exhibition flight.

Student Falls Heir to $20,000.

Lincoln, Neb.—Miss Katherine Rittenhouse, a student at Northwestern university, in Chicago, has fallen heir to an estate worth $20,000 by the will of Col. Isaac Wing, who was rejected by her mother when a girl.

Arrested; He Kills Himself.

Davenport, Ia.—James H. Farrand, superintendent of delivery in the Davenport post office, was arrested Friday morning, charged with opening registered mail. Soon after he committed suicide.

SAID TO BE SIMPLE

EASILY MIXED RECIPE FOR KIDNEYS AND BLADDER.

Tells Readers How to Prepare This Home-Made Mixture to Cure the Kidneys and Bladder and Rheumatism.

Get from any prescription pharmacist the following:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Shake well in a bottle and take a teaspoonful dose after each meal and at bedtime.

The above is considered by an eminent authority, who writes in a New York daily paper, as the finest prescription ever written to relieve Backache, Kidney Trouble, Weak Bladder and all forms of Urinary difficulties. This mixture acts promptly on the eliminative tissues of the kidneys, enabling them to filter and strain the uric acid and other waste matter from the blood which causes Rheumatism.

Some persons who suffer with the afflictions may not feel inclined to place much confidence in this simple mixture, yet those who have tried it say the results are simply surprising, the relief being effected without the slightest injury to the stomach or other organs.

Mix some and give it a trial. It certainly comes highly recommended. It is the prescription of an eminent authority, whose entire reputation, it is said, was established by it.

SURELY HAD PRIZE FLY.

Money Invested in Incubator Was Not All Lost.

Poultney Bigelow, the brilliant author and journalist, said the other day of the chicken farm that he is about to set up at Malden:

"I hope to succeed with this farm. I hope our experiences won't too closely resemble that of my old friend Horatio Rogers. Rash Rogers lived in the suburbs. On the suburban train one morning he said to me with a sour laugh:

"I've got something nobody else has got, Mr. Bigelow."

"Have you, Rash?" said I. "What is it?"

"Well," said Rogers, "I bought a $50 incubator last month, put $15 worth of eggs in it, and hatched out a blubottle fly."

"He frowned, then sighed."

"Yes," he said, "I've got the only $65 blubottle fly in the world."

Known by His Friends.

A forlorn looking man was brought before a magistrate for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. When asked what he had to say for himself, he gazed pensively at the judge, smoothed down a remnant of gray hair, and said:

"Your honor, 'Man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn.' I'm not as debased as Swift, as profligate as Byron, as dissipated as Poe, or as debauched as—"

"That will do," thundered the magistrate. "Thirty days! And, officer, take a list of those names and run 'em in. They're as bad a lot as he is."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Knew What She Wanted.

"A foreign looking woman, rather well dressed, came in the other day," said the librarian at one of the East side branches, "and asked for 'Cottage Cheese.' I supposed, of course, that some one had directed her to a dairy or perhaps a grocery, and that she had got into the wrong place. But she insisted that she was in the right place and that it was 'Cottage Cheese' that she wanted. 'It's the name of a book,' she said. 'That gave me the tip that she simply had a little mixed up, and, sure enough, it was 'Scottish Chiefs.'—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Yes, Why Not?

Dr. Frank C. Boatright, official dentist to the sultan of Morocco, has been spending his vacation in Plainfield, N. J., and at a recent dinner he said, apropos of a bad child:

"It is wise to punish children, but not corporally. I know a dentist in Gibraltar who got out a birch rod to punish his little son with one day. The boy, looking at the rod, said pitifully:

"Papa, would you mind giving me gas first?"

TRANSFORMATIONS.

Curious Results When Coffee Drinking Is Abandoned.

It is almost as hard for an old coffee toper to quit the use of coffee as it is for a whisky or tobacco fiend to break off, except that the coffee user can quit coffee and take up Postum without any feeling of a loss of the morning beverage, for when Postum is well boiled and served with cream, it is really better in point of flavor than most of the coffee served nowadays, and to the taste of the connoisseur it is like the flavor of fine, mild Java.

A great transformation takes place in the body within ten days or two weeks after coffee is left off and Postum used, for the reason that the poison to the nerves—caffeine—has been discontinued, and in its place is taken a liquid food that contains the most powerful elements of nourishment.

It is easy to make this test and prove these statements by changing from coffee to Postum. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pgs. "There's a Reason."

THE NATIONAL GUARD

Illinois Has Just Reason To Be Proud of Her Military Organization.

IS IN FLOURISHING CONDITION

Great Credit Due Governor Deneen for the Aid He Has Furnished in Securing Appropriations for Guard.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 8.—President Roosevelt's high tribute to the Fourth Illinois Infantry, at the recent deep waterway demonstration at Cairo, and the compliments showered upon the Second Illinois Infantry at the great military encampment at Indianapolis in the summer of 1906 has directed general attention to the Illinois national guard.

This organization has now reached a degree of efficiency which a few years ago was considered impossible among men who were not devoting their entire time to the manual of arms and the study of military maneuvers. Under an act of the recent general assembly the military of the state has been organized into a divisional formation. There are now two major generals in the state. Adjutant General Thomas W. Scott is given the rank and title of major general and General George M. Moulton, for years an active figure in military circles, is made major general and the commander of all the military forces of the state.

Assisting Adjutant General Scott in the business of the department are Colonel Richings J. Shand, of Rockford, commander of the Third Infantry, and Colonel Frank S. Dickson, of Ramsey, former congressman from the Twenty-Third Illinois district.

Under its new formation, the organization, uniform and equipment of the Illinois national guard conform to that of the regular army of the United States. It is subject at any time to the call of the president of the United States for domestic or foreign service to take its place as the second line of defense, the regular or standing army being the first, which of itself is wholly inadequate to protect the country from foreign invasion.

Nation Furnishes Arms.

The national government has recognized the usefulness and ability of such organizations to the extent of appropriating $2,000,000 to be expended on arms and equipment to be distributed among the troops of the various states and territories.

For the flourishing condition in which the guard of Illinois is found today great credit is due the present governor, Charles S. Deneen, who has aided by having the law passed that makes this organization conform to the organization of the United States army, who has assisted in procuring homes for two regiments, thus establishing a precedent that the state should care for the 8,000 officers and men who in time of peace are giving their time gratuitously to preparing for war. He has assisted in securing appropriations that will properly house the men and furnish them with necessities without the showy and spectacular effects which so often exist in such organizations. The governor himself is a lover of show and display has insisted that the guard be maintained for what its name implies and for nothing else and as a result the national guard of Illinois now stands second to none in the Union.

Appropriation for Guard.

The appropriation passed by the last general assembly provides for $123,000 for transportation, subsistence, camp pay, officers and men under orders; $12,500 for horse hire and forage; $7,500 for medical supplies, fuel for camp, coal for steaming the U. S. S. Dorothea, tugs, naval supplies, ship's chandlery and general expenses; engine room repairs and supplies; $5,000 for inspection of companies, boards of examiners, boards of survey and courts martial; $3,500 for lighting camp, laundering blankets and bed-sacks, telephones, general repairs and incidentals; $20,807 for target practice, ammunition, transportation, repairs and general expenses on rifle range; $10,000 for civilian employees; $5,000 for horses for mounted drills; $130,000 for armory rents, water, light, fuel, janitor and incidental expenses necessary to maintenance of armories; and $5,500 for miscellaneous expenses.

From 1865 to 1875 the great state of Illinois was without a soldier wearing its uniform, although independent militia had sprung up throughout the state. The first company to be organized was the Rock River guards at Oregon, June 20, 1868, under the command of Captain George W. Helman. This organization was followed by the Sherman guards at Knoxville, June 5, 1869; the German national guards at Bloomington, Sept. 2, 1869; and by the Sterling city guards at Sterling, April 10, 1870.

Cities in New Organization.

The last named organization was the only one of the above companies that was mustered into the service and became identified with the First regimental organization created by general orders, No. 3, Dec. 21, 1875. By virtue of that order the Sterling city guards, LaSalle light guards, Morris guards, Dwight guards, Streator veteran guards, Boone county guards and the Bohemian rifles of Chicago, constituted the Third regiment, Illinois state guards.

The First and Second regiments were then, as now, wholly in Chicago, the First with eight companies and the Second with six.

The Fifth regiment was located at Quincy and Peoria, with three companies at each place, and one company at each of the following places: Bushnell, Kewanee, Galva, Keokuk Junction.

The Fifth regiment was located at Springfield with three companies (one of which was the then famous Governor's guards) and one company at each of the following places: Petersburg, Atlanta, Pana, Cowden, Nokomis.

The Champaign industrial battalion composed the Sixth regiment and the Seventh regiment or battalion was located at Belleville, Fairfield, Benton, Marion and Crainville. At that time the Watseka rifles and Danville light battery were in existence, but were exempted from consolidation.

Guard Numbered 5,145.

The companies on Oct. 1, 1876, showed a numerical strength of 5,145 and to these men, who at that early date sacrificed their time and money, is due the credit for the excellent foundation upon which the present Illinois national guard is built. During that period the organization placed particular stress upon exhibition drills and the showy, full dress uniforms which made a fine appearance on parade. This work served to awaken the enthusiasm and patriotism of the people to the need for a national guard, not for the purpose of show and display, but of preserving law and order throughout the state.

In 1877 a military code was passed by the general assembly which became effective July 1, 1877.

From this small beginning, the present efficient national guard has arisen.

Keeps Records of All.

The adjutant general's office contains the record of every soldier that Illinois has furnished for war, that went out in an Illinois organization, and a clerk is employed for the sole purpose of furnishing a certificate of the service of any soldier who may apply for same. This is done without cost to the applicant, and thousands of these certificates are furnished each year to soldiers of the civil war to prove up claims for pensions.

Under the law the governor of the state is the commander-in-chief of the military of the state. The members of his general staff are as follows:

Major General Thomas W. Scott, adjutant general, Springfield; Colonel Frank S. Dickson, assistant adjutant general, Springfield; Colonel Walter Fieldhouse, inspector general, Chicago; Colonel H. S. Dietrich, general inspector of rifle practice, Chicago; Colonel Nicholas Senn, surgeon general, Chicago; Colonel E. R. Billas, judge advocate general, Chicago; Charles Adams, secretary to surgeon general, Chicago; Colonel Randolph Smith, Florida; Colonel Bernard A. Eckhart, Chicago.

Colonel John R. Thompson, Chicago; Colonel Ira C. Copley, Aurora; Lieutenant Colonel Burnett M. Chipchase, Canton; Captain Adol. Simmons, Chicago; Captain John H. Lowman, Danville; Captain Abel Davis, Chicago; Lieutenant Ogden T. McClurg, Chicago.

Rooster of Division Officers.

The division officers are: Major General George M. Moulton; Colonel Alvar L. Bourneque, adjutant general; Lieutenant Colonel Holman G. Purinton, inspector general; Lieutenant Colonel Charles Ailing, judge advocate; Lieutenant Colonel Joseph H. Barnett, chief inspector of rifle practice; Lieutenant Colonel G. Paul Marquis, assistant surgeon general; Major Edward H. Switzer, chief quartermaster; Major Charles M. Gillespie, chief commissary; First Lieutenant Samuel K. Martin, aide de camp; First Lieutenant George H. Elliot, aide de camp, all of Chicago.

Following are the officers of the three Illinois brigades:

First brigade—Brigadier General Edward C. Young, commander; Lieutenant Colonel Lewis D. Green, adjutant general; Lieutenant Colonel Leo Wampold, inspector general; Lieutenant Colonel Burnett M. Chipchase, judge advocate; Lieutenant Colonel Gordon Strong, chief inspector of rifle practice; Lieutenant Colonel T. Jay Robeson, assistant surgeon general; Major Levin D. Gass, chief quartermaster; Major Harry C. Cassiday, chief commissary; First Lieutenant Hiram C. Castor, aide de camp; First Lieutenant Lee A. McCalla, aide de camp, all of Chicago.

Abbott, chief inspector of rifle practice, Springfield; Lieutenant Colonel John A. Wheeler, assistant surgeon general, Auburn; Major Harry T. Loper, chief commissary, Springfield; First Lieutenant Alfred I. Castle, aide de camp, Quincy; First Lieutenant Earl Vickery, aide de camp, Jacksonville.

GIRL WITH TEN PERSONALITIES

STRANGE CASE OF A LONDON PATIENT IS DECLARED IN FINAL STAGE.

BAFFLES SKILL FOR YEARS

Lapses from One Mental State to Another Unconscious of Change—Trouble Starts from Attack of Influenza.

London.—It is believed the final stage has been reached in the strange psychological developments attending the case of a London girl who came to be known as "the girl with ten personalities" and who presented phenomena which baffled medical authorities throughout the world.

The case was made public two years ago, and was the subject of widespread discussion, for, while instances of the sort are not uncommon, several having been reported in America, this is believed to be the most remarkable of the kind. R. Albert Wilson, a brain specialist of high standing in London, who has had the girl, who now is 22 years of age, under observation since she was 13, announces she now has settled down into what may be termed a permanent stage.

When the girl was 13 she contracted a particularly severe form of influenza. Recovering, her mind became a blank, and before the eyes of Dr. Wilson she developed ten absolutely distinct and clearly recognizable personalities. They alternated without any regular sequence, the patient betraying ideas the accomplishment of which in any other of the nine stages she was entirely ignorant. She had no sense of the lapse of time between any of the personalities.

In one instance she lapsed from one to another in the evening when the lamps were lighted, and on recurring to the first stage several months later, her first question was, "Why aren't the lamps lighted?" although at the time it was midday. People she met in one personality were complete strangers to her in another. These changes always were accompanied by completely altered facial expression.

Being taken to the seaside while in one phase, she was taught to swim, but on revisiting the spot while in another condition she said she never had seen the sea before and was terrified at the idea of entering the water. Dr. Wilson appeared a different person to her in each of her personalities.

Dr. Wilson has drawn out a list of patients of the ten different personalities, with their characteristics, as follows:

First—A state of intense expectancy and fear. She shrank even from her parents, hiding her face when anyone approached.

Second—She could not understand, but was more intelligent. She called herself a thing.

Third—In this stage she was more educated and showed ability to read and write, although occasionally what she described as a naughty man took possession of her mind and she would bite her clothes.

Fourth—She became a deaf mute and talked on her fingers, being totally unconscious of loud noises close to her ear.

Fifth—She suddenly announced: "I have been here only three days and I am only three days old." She said flames of fire were black and that a fat pug dog was thin. She spelled all words backwards but wrote forwards.

Sixth—She had to be taught at this stage to read and write. At times she completely lost the use of her hands.

Seventh—She referred to herself while in this stage as Adjuste Uneza and was totally unfamiliar with Wilson's house, which she had been in many times.

Eighth—For half an hour one day she lapsed into stage three and prepared tea for the family, but was completely unconscious of having done so immediately afterwards.

Ninth—She endeavored to hit people with a strap and was unable to walk properly, maneuvering about with a chair.

Tenth—She developed into a blind imbecile, seized a piece of paper, and drew many intricate figures of designs on fashion plates. If a pencil line was drawn across her picture she detected it by touch and rubbed it out.

Thomas A. Edison, the great American inventor, says "Fully eighty per cent of the illness of mankind comes from eating improper food or too much food; people are inclined to over-indulge themselves." This is where indigestion finds its beginning in nearly every case. The stomach can do just so much work and no more, and when you overload it, or when you eat the wrong kind of food, the digestive organs cannot possibly do the work demanded of them. It is at such times that the stomach needs help; it demands help, and warns you by headaches, belching, sour stomach, nausea and indigestion. You should attend to this at once by taking something that will actually do the work for the stomach. Kodol will do this. It is a combination of natural digestants and vegetable acids and contains the same juices found in a healthy stomach. It is pleasant to take. It digests what you eat. Sold by J. H. Swan.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain in the head is caused by blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and so prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. It is effective, charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet stops it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Brush your finger and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congested blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

CROSS OF HONOR AWARDED TO PABST

MEDALS FROM BELGIUM

Rare Trophies Won at the International Hygienic and Pure Food Exposition at Antwerp.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 5.—Valued above the other hundreds of awards voted to the Pabst brewing company by national and international exhibitions held at various times in the past few decades, a collection of awards which was received by Col. Gustave Pabst from Antwerp will occupy a higher place in the esteem of the company than all the other medals in the Pabst collection.

The awards were brought to Milwaukee by special emissary from the International Hygienic and Pure Food exposition at Antwerp, Belgium, and include the cross of honor of Belgium, known as the grand prize of the exposition, a gold medal and a diploma elaborately studded with seals of noted Europeans, and setting forth that Pabst "Blue Ribbon" beer, the best of quality, received the highest award for purity and excellence at the great exposition held in Antwerp. The awards were made only after the severest tests known to enlightened science, and demonstrate, under the signatures and seals of the jury and commissioners, that the product of the Pabst Brewing company stood alone among hundreds of other beers submitted at Antwerp for the exhaustive tests of experts.

The arrival of the special messenger from Belgium was an event at the offices of the Pabst Brewing company, and already the medals have been exhibited to many Milwaukeeans interested in the excellence of this city's product as compared with that of the best known breweries in two hemispheres.

GET HIGHEST POSSIBLE HONORS.

The gold medal, which is about two and a half inches in diameter, bears on one side the head in relief of King Leopold of Belgium, who was the patron of the exposition at Antwerp. On the other side is a likeness, also in relief, of the huge building at Antwerp in which the pure food and hygienic exhibit was held. The cross of honor, or grand prize, is of beautiful design, somewhat similar to other high European orders. It bears decorations of oak leaves set in gold and red enamel. In the middle of the medal proper is the coat of arms of the city of Antwerp. The medal is attached to the crown of Belgium, which in turn is suspended from a ribbon of the tri-color of Belgium.

DIPLOMA OF BEAUTIFUL DESIGN.

The diploma setting forth the fact that "Blue Ribbon" beer was awarded the grand prize at the Antwerp exposition is a beautifully designed document bearing four idealistic figures. The entire wording is in the French language, the court language of Belgium. The body of the diploma sets forth that the "diplome de grand prix" has been awarded to the Pabst Brewing company of Milwaukee. The array of official signatures is the chief feature of the document. The diploma is signed by the president of the jury which awarded the honors, by the lord mayor of the city of Antwerp, honorary member; the administrator general, and president of the committee of commercial patronage.

The signatures of the exposition officials are verified and attested to by the minister of foreign affairs of the Royal Belgium government. All these signatures are in turn attested to by the vice and deputy consul general representing the United States government at Antwerp, the two certifications being written in the lower margin of the diploma and accompanied by the respective seals of office.

The background of the middle portion of the diploma sets forth in dim outline a view from the harbor of the port of Antwerp, showing the great shipping interests and in the extreme background the famous cathedral of Antwerp with its high steeple.

With the rising interest, much greater in European countries than in the United States, in pure foods and the general subject of hygiene, the International Hygienic and Pure Food exposition has assumed an important place. To-day its exhibits are the Mecca for thousands of manufacturers, scientists, legislators and workers for the public good from every corner of the world. The awards of the juries are made with such unmistakable impartiality and are so decidedly announced for or against certain food products that the knowledge gained from a visit to the exposition serves as absolute protection against fraud.

The exposition is held annually at different cities decided upon by the board of great breweries of Germany, America, England and other countries made efforts to excel in their exhibits, and when the time came for the highest awards interest was at fever heat.

The tests of the hundreds of samples of bottled beers were most severe. The jury which made the exhaustive tests of the brewery products was made up of scientists, university professors and chemists of note appointed by the Belgium minister of education.

SUBJECTED TO HEAT AND COLD. The jury's task was a severe one, the tests of each beer extending over a considerable time. Pabst "Blue Ribbon" beer, along with all the others, was for weeks alternately subjected to extreme degrees of heat and cold. Of all the beers so tested Pabst "Blue Ribbon" beer was the only one found upon examination to retain all the properties originally contained in the brew. It was finally determined that the "Blue Ribbon" beer took first place among all the other varieties submitted by American and European breweries. Consequently the highest possible honors of the exposition were awarded.

The fact that the American beer took first place was all the more remarkable from the fact that it was necessarily transported a great distance, a factor that might ordinarily have been a decided handicap as against other beers sent to Antwerp. The time that the beer was in transit from the brewery in Milwaukee was something like four weeks, and it is a generally accepted theory that beer loses through transportation. The Pabst beer apparently was unaffected. Its durability and pureness were found upon examination to be without fault.

The exposition at Antwerp this year was held during the months of June, July and August, the months in which the tourist travel is largest. It was opened by King Leopold, under whose protectorate it was held, the various monarchs and the French republic appointing delegates to represent them in the international show. The exhibits were placed in the great building erected several years ago at Antwerp and designed especially for large expositions of the nature of the pure food show. The juries appointed to make tests in the several departments of the exposition were appointed by the Belgian minister of education with the approval of the different nations participating in the gathering, the members being selected with special view to their peculiar fitness to judge of the merits of the products coming under their examination. One of the noted members of the jury which undertook the stupendous task of testing the bottled beers and awarding prizes was Prof. Alfred Jorgensen of Copenhagen, Denmark, than whom there is no better known authority on the subject of scientific and hygienic brewing. Others on the jury were men of undoubted ability in their line. The fact that the host of exhibitors in the department of brewing unanimously approved of the membership of the jury bespeaks their ability.

It is probable that the awards now in the care of the Pabst Brewing company will be placed on exhibition at an early date. It being the desire of the officials to permit the public at large to examine the medals and diplomas signifying the excellence of Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer.

Highest Honor Given the Pabst Brewing Company in a Competition in Which Beers From All Parts of the World Were Entered. At This Exposition Pabst "Blue Ribbon" Beer Was Pronounced by International Experts to Be the Purest and of the Best Quality.

The juries appointed to make tests in the several departments of the exposition were appointed by the Belgian minister of education with the approval of the different nations participating in the gathering, the members being selected with special view to their peculiar fitness to judge of the merits of the products coming under their examination. One of the noted members of the jury which undertook the stupendous task of testing the bottled beers and awarding prizes was Prof. Alfred Jorgensen of Copenhagen, Denmark, than whom there is no better known authority on the subject of scientific and hygienic brewing. Others on the jury were men of undoubted ability in their line. The fact that the host of exhibitors in the department of brewing unanimously approved of the membership of the jury bespeaks their ability.

It is probable that the awards now in the care of the Pabst Brewing company will be placed on exhibition at an early date. It being the desire of the officials to permit the public at large to examine the medals and diplomas signifying the excellence of Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer.

Cross of Honor.

great breweries of Germany, America, England and other countries made efforts to excel in their exhibits, and when the time came for the highest awards interest was at fever heat.

The tests of the hundreds of samples of bottled beers were most severe. The jury which made the exhaustive tests of the brewery products was made up of scientists, university professors and chemists of note appointed by the Belgium minister of education.

SUBJECTED TO HEAT AND COLD.

The jury's task was a severe one, the tests of each beer extending over a considerable time. Pabst "Blue Ribbon" beer, along with all the others, was for weeks alternately subjected to extreme degrees of heat and cold. Of all the beers so tested Pabst "Blue Ribbon" beer was the only one found upon examination to retain all the properties originally contained in the brew. It was finally determined that the "Blue Ribbon" beer took first place among all the other varieties submitted by American and European breweries. Consequently the highest possible honors of the exposition were awarded.

The fact that the American beer took first place was all the more remarkable from the fact that it was necessarily transported a great distance, a factor that might ordinarily have been a decided handicap as against other beers sent to Antwerp. The time that the beer was in transit from the brewery in Milwaukee was something like four weeks, and it is a generally accepted theory that beer loses through transportation. The Pabst beer apparently was unaffected. Its durability and pureness were found upon examination to be without fault.

The exposition at Antwerp this year was held during the months of June, July and August, the months in which the tourist travel is largest. It was opened by King Leopold, under whose protectorate it was held, the various monarchs and the French republic appointing delegates to represent them in the international show. The exhibits were placed in the great building erected several years ago at Antwerp and designed especially for large expositions of the nature of the pure food show. The juries appointed to make tests in the several departments of the exposition were appointed by the Belgian minister of education with the approval of the different nations participating in the gathering, the members being selected with special view to their peculiar fitness to judge of the merits of the products coming under their examination. One of the noted members of the jury which undertook the stupendous task of testing the bottled beers and awarding prizes was Prof. Alfred Jorgensen of Copenhagen, Denmark, than whom there is no better known authority on the subject of scientific and hygienic brewing. Others on the jury were men of undoubted ability in their line. It is probable that the awards now in the care of the Pabst Brewing company will be placed on exhibition at an early date. It being the desire of the officials to permit the public at large to examine the medals and diplomas signifying the excellence of Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer.

GOSSIP OF THE RING.

Famous Sullivan Twins Are on the Warpath.

KETCHELL LATEST PHENOM.

Montana Welterweight Surprises Ring Experts by Clapping the Lid on Joe Thomas' Championship Aspirations. Another Meeting Planned.

The famous twins of pugilism, Mike Sullivan and Jack Sullivan of Cambridge, Mass., will in all probability be principals in two important title encounters next fall.

Mike is the claimant of the welterweight championship by his recent defeat of Honey Melody. He says that he can do 142 pounds. Jack is a claimant of the middleweight championship by his defeat of Hugo Kelly and many others in his class. He says that he can make 153. Their right to the titles is not clear, but they are just as good as the claims of any others. Technically, Joe Walcott is the welter champion, but the "Black Demon" is no longer a demon. He's all in. Bob Fitzsimmons is the rightful holder of the middleweight title. But Jack would have to fight like a genius to win the title from him, even if Bob is forty-five.

Mike has been offered a match with Joe Thomas by Jim Coffroth. It will likely take place at Colma in September, after the latter's fight with Young Ketchell, and it will be one of the greatest battles of a decade. Jack is wanted in a finish fight with Hugo Kelly at Tonopah by Jack Curley. But he is after Tommy Burns, who calls himself since the Frisco fiasco the heavyweight champion of the world. Since Jack has already whipped Burns the Canuck would find that his title would read clearer if he should blot out the defeat by beating the Cambridge man. The match is among the probabilities.

Joe Thomas has signed for forty rounds with Young Ketchell of Montana at San Francisco on Labor day. This will be the second time the men have met. The first meeting was but twenty rounds and ended in a draw.

Young Ketchell sprang from Queensberry obscurity to a position of pugilistic prominence that might well be envied by any boxer in the country. In getting into the limelight Ketchell performed a feat that some of the best welterweights have attempted to accomplish, but failed. He practically defeated that robust welter, Joe Thomas, who has shown such hitting power that none of the men in his class has exhibited a very earnest desire to meet him in the ring.

It is true that the referee—a very bad one he must have been—declared the bout was drawn, but all the reports of the mill are to the effect that Ketchell won all the way and had Thomas on the verge of a knockout several times during the bout.

Naturally Thomas has his excuse. He was overconfident and was careless. Possibly his condition was not good, but in any event he got a good beating, and he was fortunate not to have the accident against him. The bout took place at the Phoenix Athletic club, Marysville, Cal.

GLADDEN HITS ROCKEFELLER

Makes an Address to the Congregationalists—Country in a Very Bad Way.

Cleveland, Oct. 9.—At the opening session of the thirteenth triennial council of Congregationalists Rev. Washington Gladden, of Columbus, O., called the assembly to order and led the devotional services. Gladden also delivered an address in which he said:

"It is idle, it is fatuous, to hide from ourselves the fact that we are facing here in the United States of America a social crisis. The forces which are at work here mean destruction. A social order which makes profitable the rise of a Harriman or a Rockefeller is a social order which cannot long endure. The swollen fortunes that many are gloating over are symptoms of disease."

He Didn't Plead the Unwritten Law.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 9.—The jury in the case of Ed Turner, of Breathitt county, Ky., charged with the murder of his wife, brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree. Turner had confessed to the murder, but said she was unfaithful, had not denied it, but had defied him when he accused her. He didn't plead the "unwritten law."

TWO CYCLING CROWS

They Pedal Bike Thirty-two and One-half Miles.

PROVED BY CYCLOMETER.

Birds Ride Until Exhausted, When They Are Relieved by Wheel's Owner, Who Christens One Roosevelt, the Other Dr. Long.

L. S. Faber of Peapack, N. J., writes to the editor of the New York Times as follows:

As there seems to be so much attention lately given to "nature fakirs" and nature pro and con, I am taking the liberty of describing to the Times the following incident, which at the time and ever since has appeared to me to be a trifle out of the ordinary:

While out at a farm near the metropolis of Peapack, N. J., on a recent afternoon I was behind the barn cleaning my bicycle. In the nearby meadow is a clump of scrub oak trees, and these at the time were used as a resting place by a flock of crows. Evidently the dry weather and a lack of food had made them bolder than usual, for when I threw them a few crumbs of my lunch they flew down and devoured it greedily. My wheel I had reversed—resting it on its handle bars and saddle the better to get at the spokes, etc. Having finished the cleaning, I left it as it was, throwing the remainder of my lunch on the ground, and went into the barn. As I entered I glanced behind me and was surprised to observe one of the crows (almost immediately followed by another) swoop down toward the bicycle, evidently intent upon getting the remains of my lunch. He "lit" on the right pedal of the machine, which happened to be up, but his weight was such that he caused it to make a half turn, and at that very instant the other crow "lit" on the left pedal, which was now up, and his impetus was such that he now also made a half turn, thus bringing the first crow up again. This one then "hunched" himself in his endeavor to fly off, but this very "hunch" was sufficient to cause his pedal to sink down. This operation was then repeated by the left pedal crow in turn, and so they kept the wheel revolving and seemingly were unable to leave it. I watched them for a half hour, and when I returned at sundown they were still at it.

I dislike to see any one work too hard, so I stopped the wheel by grasping the tire. The two birds were so exhausted that they fell to the ground, and I easily picked them up, but after giving them a little food and water they appeared as well as ever. There were some leg bands in the barn, and after marking one of them "Roosevelt" and the other "Dr. Long" I fastened one to each of the birds and let them fly. Upon looking at the cyclometer, which was attached to the rear wheel, I saw that it registered thirty-two and a half miles more than when I last noted it. Now, some students of nature may doubt the above, but to convince them I shall be pleased to show them the wheel and its cyclometer, also Peapack, the farm, the barn, the meadow and the clump of oaks. The birds, of course, have flown away, but no doubt with a little salt they could be recaptured.

"MASTER BUILDER."

Alla Nazimova In an Ibsen Play That Does Not Please.

STAR AND COMPANY DO WELL

Of Supporting Players Walter Hampden and H. Reeves-Smith Score. "The Hurdy Gurdy Girl," New Musical Comedy by R. Carle.

[From Our New York Dramatic Correspondent.]

Alla Nazimova has appeared at the Bijou theater in "The Master Builder," by Henrik Ibsen. The play is not an attractive one and has few real merits, in spite of the late author's distinction.

The splendid, intelligent work of Mme. Nazimova and her supporting company, however, helped to dispel the unfavorable impression created by the play itself.

The play should be cut for representation. It is useless to expect an audience to comprehend or be interested in passages which have defeated even the efforts of the commentators.

Few of Ibsen's plays indeed have been the subject of more varying discussion and analysis. But the symbolism of its main characters, though baffling in detail, is generally clear enough.

Halvard Solnes (Walter Hampden) typifies the man capable of great achievement, temporarily estranged from his ideals, then struggling to regain them, only to find that he has lost something of inspiration in delay.

He may indeed attain the heights, but only at the complete sacrifice of the material ideal. And so Hilda Wangel (Mme. Nazimova), waiting through the years for her Master Builder's redemption, sees in his death the moment of his greatest victory.

Walter Hampden's portrayal of Solnes was altogether remarkable as well. Big of voice and physique, thorough and precise in methods, he acted skillfully the master, wavering, doubting and suffering between his ambition and the cost of its fulfillment.

Gertrude Berkeley played Alina, the wife, in the monotone required. It was an exceedingly artistic treatment of a difficult role.

H. Reeves-Smith, in a kind of part with which he has not been associated on this side—that of fussy Dr. Herdal—was capital. Cyril Young, Warner Oland and Rosalind Ivan gave satisfying renderings of Knut, Ragnar and Kala respectively.

There were all kinds of loud approval at Wallack's recently when "The Hurdy Gurdy Girl" got to town. Richard Carle, when he dashed off this latest musical comedy of his, was ably abetted and seconded in the laudable endeavor by the librettist, H. L. Heartz.

Incidentally there were several tuneful melodies which acted like a success on frazzled first night eardrums. Especially "Hope On," sung by the Hurdy Gurdy Girl herself, and the organ grinder made such a strong hit that it was worked overtime through the rest of the play.

Bertha Mills played the role of Lola, the Hurdy Gurdy Girl. Annie Yeaman was seen as Sarah Otis.

Other members of the cast were Adele Rowland, Walter Lawrence, Harry Stone, John E. Hazzard and Jacques Kruger.

FIRST GAME IS A TIE

Chicago Cubs and Detroit Tigers Struggle Twelve Innings Before a Crowd of 27,000 Fans.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—After a struggle that lasted for twelve rounds and was ended by darkness the first game for the world's base ball championship between the Chicago Nationals and Detroit Americans, winners of the respective pennants for the year, was a tie—3 to 3.

There were 24,377 "fans" in the ball park seats when the game began, quite a percentage being from Detroit, and besides those occupying seats there was standing room found for late comers by the management.

Overall and Donovan were the opposing pitchers. The former was taken out when Chicago had tied the score in the ninth inning and had men on the bases waiting to score the winning runs. Moran was sent in to bat for him, but before the latter had time to deliver the needed hit Evers tried to steal home, and was out by a narrow margin, retiring the side.

At St. Louis the score of the local clubs was—American, 1, National, 2.

Government Trains House-keepers.

Household economy has been given official recognition by the Belgian government in the establishment of domestic training schools. The curriculum includes the maintenance and cleanliness of dwellings, furnishings, laundry work, cutting, fitting, making and repairing of ordinary garments; cooking, and in the rural districts, gardening, dairy work and the care of poultry. In addition there are lectures on hygiene, domestic economy, care of children and nursing of the sick. There are both elementary schools and those for advanced pupils. The latter teach dressmaking, lace making, embroidery, flower making and so on.

Boldness as a Success Factor.

There is something about boldness which sometimes borders on audacity that commands respect. It is based upon real self-confidence, a consciousness of power, and not upon egotism. There is something subtle about a strong man who can neither be cajoled, rattled nor stampeded. Orison Swett Marden in "Success Magazine."

MAD OR MISCREANT?

Denver Man Confesses Attempting the Lives of Gov. Buchtel and Two Others.

HE MAILS INFERNAL MACHINES

Confession Comes Just in Time to Prevent the Tragedy.

Had Earlier Told a Pipe Story to the Police Alleging That Others Were Plotting the Assassination.

Denver, Oct. 9.—Governor Henry A. Buchtel; David H. Moffat, president of the First National bank, of Denver, and Charles B. Kountze, president of the Colorado National bank, have received through the mails infernal machines containing sufficient dynamite to have caused great destruction of lives and property had they been exploded. Fortunately warning had been given to the recipients of the machines before they were received by Chief of Police Delaney, who had obtained a confession from Kemp V. Bigelow, by whom they were mailed.

Secretary Was Suspicious.

Bigelow confessed also that he had sent infernal machines to Lawrence C. Phipps and Edward Chase, but these were not delivered. The machines received by Moffat and Kountze were turned over to the police department. The one sent to Governor Buchtel was received by the governor's private secretary, Alfred C. Montgomery, who removed the wrapper disclosing a box with a sliding cover. His suspicions were aroused and he reported the matter to Governor Buchtel, who then informed him that he had been warned by the chief of police to be on the lookout for an infernal machine.

They Were Diabolical Machines.

Adjutant General Kelley and officers of the police department were called in and the box was carefully opened by them in such a manner as to avoid explosion of its contents. It was found to contain two sticks of dynamite to which were attached fuses and caps, and which were packed in black powder. The sliding top was lined with sand paper, and matches had been placed with their heads in contact with the sand paper, so that they would have been lighted if the box had been opened in the manner intended.

HIS SCHEME A WILD ONE

Thought to Make Money by Passing as a Hero, Kemp Says.

In the presence of Chief of Police Delaney, Police Commissioner Earl Hewitt, representatives of newspapers and Fred Moffat, a nephew of David H. Moffat, Bigelow made a confession in which he admitted sending the infernal machines, and explained his motive. He said that he was unable to earn enough at his regular employment to keep him properly, and conceived the idea of making a hero of himself with probable financial reward as a result. Accordingly he made a special trip to Eldorado, Colo., where he secured the dynamite and returning to the city Sunday, prepared the infernal machines and mailed them in street corner mail boxes.

The police of Denver had been scouring the city for dynamite plotters who, according to the story told by Bigelow, were frustrated in a scheme to assassinate the entire family of Edward Chase, the gambling king of Denver, by blowing up his house. The bomb plot discovered was said to have marked for destruction, in addition to Chase and his family, David H. Moffat, Governor Buchtel, Banker C. B. Kountze and Lawrence Phipps, the steel magnate.

Bigelow said that he overheard two men in the street scheming the wholesale assassination and notified the police. A hasty investigation resulted in finding a large quantity of giant powder hidden near Chase's house. There was enough of the explosive to have blown the capitol building off the hill. In the conversation which gave Bigelow the alarm which set the police on the trail of the plotters he heard the names of the intended victims spoken. "We are going to get Chase tonight," said one of the two. "We are to meet Jim in a few minutes and we are going there to set it off." The police laid in wait all night for the trio to appear at Chase's house, but they evidently had been frightened off. Bigelow is a clerk in a local book store.

Bigelow's story was regarded with suspicion, and he was placed under arrest later. Yesterday he confessed that he himself placed the dynamite near Chase's house, where it was found, and that he had sent several infernal machines by mail. Had this confession not been obtained in time to give warning to the men to whom the machines had been sent those who opened the boxes containing the dynamite would undoubtedly have been killed.

OPINIONS OF A ROTHSCHILD

What He Thinks of the Depression of Stocks in Great Britain and Other Countries.

London, Oct. 9.—The Daily News today publishes an interview with Lord Rothschild on the depression of stocks at home and abroad, in the course of which the financier attributes the decline not to the booming of trade, but to the fact that governments all over the world are "hitting" at capital. Among other things Lord Rothschild instances the prospective British legislation regarding old-age pensions, land purchases, etc. Continuing, he says: "Of course President Roosevelt's speeches against the conduct of American railroads are disturbing the market greatly. We must all admit that the manipulation of railroad stock in the United States has not always been quite what it should, but this does not detract from the serious character of the president's campaign. It is difficult—nay, it is almost impossible—as things stand today for us to furnish from this country fresh capital for railroad development across the water."

Vilas Leaves a Railway Board. Milwaukee, Oct. 9.—Ex-United States Senator Vilas, of Madison, Wis., at the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Central Railroad company retired from the board of directors of that system. The two vacancies on the board were filled by the election of S. G. Courten and George W. Webster, both of Milwaukee.

Queen Wilhelmina as Arbitrator. The Hague, Oct. 9.—Queen Wilhelmina has communicated to Senator Esteva and Count Tornelli, representing Mexico and Italy, her willingness to accept the appointment of arbitrator under the Italy-Mexico treaty of general arbitration which is to be signed before the peace conference adjourns.

C. H. and D. Ratified. Cincinnati, Oct. 9.—Shareholders of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railway, by unanimous vote, ratified the several agreements which have been worked out in the settlement of the troubles of the company growing out of the merger with the Pere Marquette and other lines.

Sure To.

Tangier, Oct. 9.—A drunken Spanish workman shot and killed a Moorish soldier here, and the incident has caused considerable excitement among the natives. The Spanish consul says the affair was an accident.

SAVED FROM THE POT

Sailors Barely Escape Being Made Into a Stew.

SOUP KETTLES WERE READY.

And Cannibals Were Gloating Over the Coming Feast When Ingenuity of the Second Mate Snatched the Crew of the All's Well Away.

Second Mate J. B. Foster of the British steamship Gymeric, which sailed for north China ports from Seattle recently, has had many hairbreadth escapes during a long and checkered career on the sea, but he swells with pride at the thought that never has he been in a wreck, a circumstance peculiar to few sailors addicted to relating their adventures.

"But I was near wrecked once," said he when in a reminiscent mood as the boat was taking on cargo in Seattle. "I was on the bark All's Well, and we were out from London delivering supplies for missionaries along the west coast of Africa. Funny places they were that we called at—awful names, regular jaw breakers, like the Alekulewagees and the like. "It was a case of having to lay off shore while a bunch of Kook boys paddled out from the low lying beach and carried the supplies ashore in their queer canoes. Slow lighting it was, and good and sick of the job we were, I can tell you. Once I went ashore with the niggers, and the sight of the mission station, with its bunch of pot bellied, stinking converts and the hyena-like dogs round that compound, completely diverted me from any idea of enlisting in the ranks of the sky pilots in those latitudes.

"It couldn't make out which was the more fool, the men who lived there or the people at home who sent them out their grub stakes; but, as it turned out, it was those seafaring fellows that kept your truly and his mates from being fricasseed by the cannibal savages of the locality.

"After a stretch of good weather it darkened over and blew great gusts, and then some more. When the storm was over we found ourselves drifting on to shore, with the tide running in furiously. There wasn't a breath of air after the hurricane we had just been through, and the ship was helpless in the calm.

"On the beach, rapidly getting nearer, we could see the savages lighting fires and getting the big soup kettles ready, and there were big lumps in our throats as we watched the preparations for our reception.

"Suddenly I was seized with an inspiration, and it was due to that blessed thought that I'm here in Seattle today. "We had on board several little stern paddle wheel steamboats for the missionaries. They were built in sections for transport. Like a flash we got out two of the sections with the wheels on and rigged them on the stern of the All's Well. We had a donkey engine on board for loading cargo, and, with our usual sailors' ingenuity, we rigged up a gear to turn the paddles and so steamed away from the dangerous shore.

"It was a close shave, though. We could hear the man enters fighting among themselves as to who would have the fat one, and as that individual was myself you can fancy the sigh of relief I heaved when our vessel began to make way."

Almost Eaten Up by Mosquitoes.

Bridget Collins, eighty years old, who wandered from her home in the Bronx, New York city, was found in a swamp ten miles away half buried in the mud and almost eaten alive by mosquitoes. Mounted Policeman Flynn was riding past the swamp when some boys called his attention to what appeared to be a bundle of rags, which they declared had moved. By means of several boards the policeman got to where the woman was lying and carried her out. She was taken to the Lebanon hospital, where it is said she could not live.

Carried Union Idea Too Far.

Mark Twain might take a few lessons from Mose Nero, an Indian who tried to introduce a new fashion in evening dress at Muskogee, I. T., the other night and was hauled up in police court and fined $10. He was charged with being drunk, disorderly and undressed. He attended a church lawn party attired in a suit of blue union underwear and a sack coat. The police believed the Indian was carrying the union idea too far.

RUSSIAN IDEAS OF LIBERTY

How the Czar Permits Them To Be Illustrated at Odessa—More Outrages on Jews.

Odessa, Oct. 8.—The unionists of Odessa continued their attacks and outrages upon Jews. They began by surrounding the Hebrew cemetery, where a funeral service was going on. First they stoned and then they fired a volley of revolvershots at the mourning Jews, many of whom were wounded. The Jews fled in panic. Later in the day members of the Black Hundred divided themselves into small groups, and ransacking several Jewish shops mercilessly beat the proprietors.

A police sergeant who attempted to intervene was brutally attacked, whereupon he drew his revolver and killed one of his assailants. After further Jew baiting detachments of Cossacks arrived on the scene, but instead of pursuing the Black Hundreds they laughed at the rapidity with which they made their escape.

OLDEST NEW ENGLAND VOTER

New Milford, Conn., Oct. 8.—Alanson Canfield, 100 years old, voted at the town meeting yesterday and kept up his reputation of being the oldest voter in New England. He has always voted a straight ticket. He was one of the first Whigs and later a Republican, and has deposited a ballot at every presidential election since 1828, casting his last vote for Andrew Jackson and his last for Roosevelt.

Canfield was born and always lived in this town. In early life he was a farmer, later a butcher, and eventually started the first lumber yard in this section, from which business he retired in 1867. His mind is bright and his bodily faculties sound.

He was discovered by the engineer of the train, who barely managed to stop a few feet from the prostrate man.

UNCLE SAM'S VICTORY

He Carries Off Pretty Much All the Honors Going at The Hague.

HIS OWN ARBITRATION SCHEME

Last of the Measures Adopted by His Persistent Efforts.

His Representative Also Remorselessly Squelches a Diplomat Who Criticized Our Method of Making Treaties.

The Hague, Oct. 8.—The entire Anglo-American project providing for obligatory arbitration was approved at the session of the committee on arbitration by 31 votes to 9. The opponents of the measure were Germany, Austria-Hungary, Switzerland, Belgium, Roumania, Greece, Turkey, Bulgaria and Montenegro. Italy, Japan and Luxembourg refrained from voting, and one delegate was absent.

Great Victory for Uncle Sam.

The approval of this project is regarded as a great victory, especially for the United States. The first proposition on this subject was presented to the conference on July 8 by the United States delegation, and Joseph H. Choate, the first United States representative, has worked unceasingly and determinedly for its acceptance. The vote proved that, as M. Renault (France) said in the discussion, "Arbitration is not a strange beast that must be muzzled." Another great success for the United States was the unanimity with which all the countries of the American continent stood firmly at the side of the United States, thus putting an end to the impression of lack of harmony between the governments of the western hemisphere created by reports of recent dissensions.

Still Another Victory for Us.

During the afternoon sitting of the committee Herr Meroy von Kapos-Mere (Austria-Hungary) caused an incident by again raising the issue as to the value of treaties made with the United States, as the United States senate might refuse to ratify them, but he received from James Brown Scott, of the United States delegation, such a lesson that he will remember it for a long time.

SORRY FOR THAT HUNGARIAN

Scott Sits Down on Him So Very Hard and Sudden-Like.

The Austro-Hungarian declared that the conditions in the United States in the matter of arranging treaties were not analogous to those in any other state. "It is not a question of good faith, which is out of discussion," said Herr Meroy von Kapos-Mere, "but the government of the United States, after concluding a treaty with Austria-Hungary, did not ratify it, explaining that the American senate had imposed a condition that ratification would compromise—namely, a special agreement to be submitted to the senate. This is an obstacle against which not only the peace conference, but even the American government is powerless."

Scott then arose and said at once with much irony: "I am touched at the lesson on American internal constitutional law which the delegate from Austria-Hungary has given me. The question of ratification and compromise belongs solely to the internal constitutional law of the United States. It is indifferent to international law, whether the compromise be by sovereigns or by legislative bodies or by both. A foreign government looks not to the progress, but to the completed act, and it has no right to discuss or examine the internal means by which the act is concluded. It is the result, not the process, which is important."

"The Austro-Hungarian representative says that the treaty of 1904 was not ratified because of the impossibility of the United States concluding a compromise. Consequently the present discussion is academic. I challenge Herr Meroy von Kapos-Mere to cite a single case in which the United States, being bound to make a compromise, did not make it."

The Austro-Hungarian delegate, although disconcerted by this vigorous reply, arose and said he found Scott's explanations insufficient, because they failed to demonstrate why the United States had failed to ratify the treaty of 1904; why the American senate reserved its ratification of the compromise. Scott, calmly and with dignity, then answered: "I have only one reply to make: The policy of the United States is not a subject for discussion at an international conference."

Hearty applause greeted this short but eloquent reply and it made the position of the Austro-Hungarian delegate so embarrassing that he had nothing further to say.

WILHELM'S RECORD.

Great Southern League Pitcher Was With Pittsburg and Boston.

Pitcher Irving K. Wilhelm recently won fame by winning both games of a double header for Birmingham, Ala., shutting out Shreveport in each and completing a series of over sixty innings without allowing a single score. It's dollars to angels that Wilhelm will again adorn a "big league" roster next year.

Pitcher Wilhelm of the Birmingham Southern League club was born in Wooster, O., thirty-two years ago. He stands five feet ten inches and weighs 160 pounds. He picked up the art of pitching with the Wooster university. He was with Canton's team as a "pro" in 1900. In 1901 and 1902 he pitched for the Birmingham team of the Southern league. Frank Haller, player agent for the Pittsburg club, managed this team for a time in 1902, and he induced Colonel Dreyfuss to buy him. The man was with Pittsburg in 1903 and put up a fine record, but he did not "gee" any too well with Manager Clarke, and the club let him go.

He was then signed by the Boston National club, for which he did excellent work until 1905, when he was released to the Birmingham club of the Southern league, of which team he has since been a valued member. He was a big factor in that club's capture of the Southern league championship in 1906.

The Mississippi Valley "No
In wealth of natural resources no kingdom of Europe can compare with the Mississippi valley and the region around the great lakes, taken together, and in population this huge fertile plain already surpasses all save one or two of the largest European kingdoms. In this empire a peculiarly staid and masterful people finds itself in the surroundings best fitted for the full development of its powers growth in the valley of manufacturing centers; the movement is good if it does not go too far; but I most ear-

Transportation Demands. The wonderful variety of resources in different portions of the valley make the demand for transportation altogether exceptional. Coal, lumber, corn, wheat, cotton, cattle—on the surface of the soil and beneath the soil the riches are great. There are already evident strong tendencies to increase the carrying of freight from the northern part of the valley to the gulf. Throughout the valley the land is so fertile as to make the field for the farmer peculiarly attractive; and where in the west the climate becomes dryer we enter upon the ranching country; while in addition to the products of the soil there are also the manufactures supplied in innumerable manufacturing centers, great and small. Cities of astonishing growth are found everywhere from the gulf to the great lakes, from the Alleghenies to the Rockies; most of them being situated on the great river which flows by your doors or upon some of its numerous navigable tributaries. New mineral fields are discovered every year; and the constant increase of use of all the devices of intensive cultivation steadily adds to the productive power of the farms. Above all, the average man is honest, intelligent, self-reliant, and orderly and therefore a good citizen and a wageworker alike—in the last analysis the two most important men in the community—enjoy a standard of

Accordingly, I have asked the waterways commission to take account of the orderly develop-

UNITED STATES SENATOR FROM SOUTH CAROLINA PRAISES PERUNA

Ex-Senator M. C. Butler.

Dyspepsia is often caused by Catarrh of the Stomach—Peruna Relieves Catarrh of the Stomach and is Therefore a Remedy for Dyspepsia.

Hon. M. C. Butler, U. S. Senator from South Carolina for two terms, in a letter from Washington, D. C., writes to the Peruna Medicine Co., as follows:

"I can recommend Peruna for dyspepsia and stomach trouble. I have been using your medicine for a short period and I feel very much relieved. It is indeed a wonderful medicine, besides a good tonic."

CATARRH of the stomach is the correct name for most cases of dyspepsia. Only an internal catarrh remedy, such as Peruna, is available.

Peruna Tablets can now be procured.

GRABBED BY TRUST

RAILWAY CONTRACTS FOR OIL ARE TAKEN FROM RIVALS.

LOWER PRICE NO HELP

Manager of Competing Company Testifies in the Hearing of the Federal Suit for Dissolution.

New York.—Testimony that railroads purchased their lubricating oils from the Standard Oil company at prices that were higher than those of its competitors was heard Monday in the federal suit for the dissolution of the so-called oil trust.

Philip Harrison, manager of the New York Lubricating Oil company, which has engaged in a long strife with the Standard in the lubricating oil industry, testified that the New York Lubricating Oil company entered into a contract in 1903 to supply the Louisville & Nashville railway for a period of two years, and six months before the contract expired President Milton Smith, of the railroad, informed the oil company that it need not endeavor to obtain a renewal of the contract. Mr. Harrison testified that he had informed President Smith that if he was permitted to bid for the business he was prepared to reduce the price of engine oil from the current contract price.

Notwithstanding the fact that President Smith had praised the quality of the oil and that it was offered at a lower price than that asked by the Standard, Mr. Harrison said, the Louisville & Nashville railway entered into a contract with the Galena Signal Oil company, a subsidiary of the oil combine. Mr. Harrison said that the railroad paid $30,000 a year more for its oil to the Standard than it would have paid under a contract with the New York company.

Mr. Harrison testified that the Central Railway of Georgia had purchased its oil from his company and that it had been satisfactory. The Standard obtained the business, the witness said, notwithstanding the fact that the oil combine charged a higher price than the New York Lubricating Oil company charged.

HARTJE RENEWS HIS FIGHT. Wants Divorce Case Reopened, Claiming to Have New Proof.

Philadelphia.—Claiming that they have letters which passed between Thomas Madine, coachman, and Mrs. Mary Scott Hartje, which will result in a complete reversal of affairs, counsel for Augustus Hartje, the wealthy Pittsburgh manufacturer, appeared before the Pennsylvania superior court here Monday to argue a petition for reopening the sensational suit for divorce which he brought against his wife.

Other letters which the petitioner says he has found since the case was heard were written, he alleges, by Helen Scott and Ida Scott to Howard A. Lappe, of Pittsburgh, Pa., in which the writers indicate that unless their parents paid them a certain sum of money each month they would "turn in" for the petitioner. These letters were written, according to the petition, on April 27 and April 29, 1907.

COTTON CONGRESS OPENED.

Delegates from Many Lands at Atlanta Conference.

Atlanta, Ga.—With delegates present representing every phase of the cotton industry from the time it leaves the planters' hands to the time when the product, woven into fabrics, is sent to the markets of the world, and including representatives of many foreign countries, the international conference of cotton spinners and growers met at the state capitol building in this city Monday.

More than 500 delegates were present, nearly a hundred of these representing the great mills of Germany, Great Britain, France, Italy, Spain and Portugal, with an aggregate wealth in farm lands, cotton crop and mills of nearly $4,000,000,000. Gov. Hoke Smith of Georgia, in his address of welcome, caused much applause by advocating the ginning, compressing and baling of the cotton on the plantation.

Ecuadorian Rebels Dispersed. Guayaquil, Ecuador.—A large band of Ecuadorian rebels has been defeated by a detachment of Peruvian police near the city of Plura, Peru. The rebels had planned to invade Ecuador, expecting heavy reinforcements after they crossed the frontier.

Arbitration Project Wins. The Hague.—The entire Anglo-American project providing for obligatory arbitration was approved at the Monday evening's session of the committee on arbitration by 31 votes to 9.

Hersey to Be in Balloon Race. Washington.—At the request of Prof. Willis L. Moore, of the United States weather bureau, Secretary Wilson, of the department of agriculture, Monday authorized Maj. Henry B. Hersey, chief inspector of the government meteorological service, to represent the government in the international aeronautic cup race from St. Louis October 21. Maj. Hersey has just returned to this country from Spitzbergen, where he assisted Walter Wellman in his effort to reach the north pole with an airship.

A TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

How a Veteran Was Saved the Amputation of a Limb.

B. Frank Doremus, veteran, of Roosevelt avenue, Indianapolis, Ind., says: "I had been showing symptoms of kidney trouble from the time I was mustered out of the army, but in all my life I never suffered as in 1897. Headaches, dizziness, first, and then dropsy, I was weak and helpless, having run down from 180 to 125 pounds. I was having terrible pain in the kidneys, and the secretions passed almost involuntarily. My left leg swelled until it was 34 inches around, and the doctor tapped it night and morning until I could no longer stand it, and then he advised amputation. I refused, and began using Doan's Kidney Pills. The swelling subsided gradually, the urine became natural, and all my pains and aches disappeared. I have been well now for nine years since using Doan's Kidney Pills."

ON A MACKEREL SCHOONER.

Daily Routine in the Life of the Gloucester Fishermen.

The routine life on a mackerel schooner is not strenuous. The crew consists of 14 men, a skipper and cook. Two men constitute a watch, one aloft as a lookout, the other at the wheel, so that each man has two hours on duty, and then 12 hours off, before his turn comes around again. During this period he may be called on to shorten sail, wash the deck or to perform other work. Half of the crew have their bunks forward with the cook, who is king of the fore-cabin, and the rest sleep aft with the captain. We were assigned to a double bunk aft, where we were not troubled with galley smells, but had to be on our good behavior. All the rolls and revels were forward. The crew ate in two shifts, the older men with the skipper.—Travel Magazine.

SLEEP BROKEN BY ITCHING.

Eczema Covered Whole Body for a Year—No Relief Until Cuticura Remedies Prove a Success.

"For a year I have had what they call eczema. I had an itching all over my body, and when I would retire for the night it would keep me awake half the night, and the more I would scratch, the more it would itch. I tried all kinds of remedies, but could get no relief."

"I used one cake of Cuticura Soap, one box of Cuticura, and two vials of Cuticura Resolvent Pills, which cost me a dollar and twenty-five cents in all, and am very glad I tried them, for I was completely cured. Walter W. Pagnusch, 207 N. Robey St., Chicago, Ill., Oct. 8 and 16, 1906."

Concili.

"There goes the big-feel'n'est man in town!" pessimistically said a citizen of Pettyville, indicating with a contemptuous jerk of his thumb a pompous-appearing personage who was passing. "He thinks so darned much of himself that he won't loaf in a grocery store like ordinary folks—if he can't loaf in the bank he won't loaf at all. And, as far as I can see, he ain't so all-fired better than some of the rest of us, neither!"—Puck.

Sheer white goods, in fact, any new wash goods when new, owe much of their attractiveness to the way they are laundered, this being done in a manner to enhance their textile beauty. Home laundering would be equally satisfactory if proper attention was given to starching, the first essential being good starch, which has sufficient strength to stiffen, without thickening the goods. Try Defiance Starch and you will be pleasantly surprised at the improved appearance of your work.

And the sooner a man makes up his mind to let a woman have the last word the sooner the controversy will end.

Perfect Womanhood

The greatest menace to woman's permanent happiness in life is the suffering that comes from some derangement of the feminine organs.

Many thousands of women have realized this too late to save their health, barely in time to save their lives. To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, should be a woman's constant study.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headache, bearing-down sensations, nervousness, irregularities or the "blues," she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as the great woman's remedy for woman's ills, made only of roots and herbs. It cures Female Complaints, such as Dragging Sensations, Weak Back, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation and Ulceration, and all Organic Diseases, and is invaluable in the Change of Life. It dissolves and Expels Tumors at an early stage. Subdues Faintness, Nervous Prostration, Exhaustion, and strengthens and tones the Stomach, Cures Headache, General Debility, Indigestion, and invigorates the whole female system. It is an excellent remedy for derangements of the Kidneys in either sex.

Grammar and Grippe.

A professor at the University of Virginia was endeavoring to impress upon the youths of his class the monstrous crime of using the adverb "badly" where the adjective "bad" should be used.

"Now," he said, after an exhaustive explanation, "if a man should say to you 'I feel badly,' what would you think?"

"I'd think he had the grippe, sir," responded the wag of the class.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CLEMENT & CO., Toledo, O.

Happy marriages are surely possible even in these unpoetic, hard-hearted times. They are, if the people will only follow the instinct of their better natures and marry for love—the reverent, impassioned love of the man for the maiden, the pure, unsophisticated affection of the maiden for the man—instead of bartering happiness for rank or money.—Thorne.

The extraordinary popularity of fine white goods this summer makes the choice of Starch a matter of great importance. Defiance Starch, being free from all injurious chemicals, is the only one which is safe to use on fine fabrics. Its great strength as a stiffener makes half the usual quantity of Starch necessary, with the result of perfect finish, equal to that when the goods were new.

Catch of Japanese Fishermen. Consul G. H. Seidmore, of Nagasaki, reports the estimated value of the catch of the Japanese deep-sea fishermen in 1906 as $557,985. They also captured fish to the value of $140,415 along the Korean coast, including whales, worth $68,000.

New and Liberal Homestead Regulations in WESTERN CANADA

New Districts Now Opened for Settlement

Some of the choicest lands in the grain growing belt of Saskatchewan and Alberta have recently been opened for settlement under the Revised Homestead Regulations of Canada. The lands of homesteads of 160 acres each are now available. The new regulations make it possible for any one to become a settler, the opportunity that many in the United States have been waiting for. Any member of a family may make entry for any other member of the family, who may be entitled to make entry for himself or herself. Entry may now be made before the Agent or Sub-Agent of the District by proxy (on certain conditions) by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-West Provinces, excepting 1 and 36, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person the sole head of a family, or male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 40 acres, more or less.

The fee in each case will be $10.00. Churches, schools and markets convenient. Healthy climate, splendid crops and good laws. Grain-growing and cattle raising principal industries. For further particulars as to rates, routes, best time to go and where to locate, apply to C. J. BROUGHTON, Room 419 Quincy Bldg., Chicago, Ill.; W. H. ROGERS, third floor, Truett Terminal Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn.; or T. G. CURRIE, Room 12 B, Callahan Bldg., Milwaukee, Wis.

Chiropractic Prescription.

A lotion and powder for tender and swollen feet: One teaspoonful of boracic acid to one pint of grain alcohol. After bathing the feet in lukewarm water, spray them with the lotion used in an atomizer, and fan until dry. The effect is delightful. Then rub over the foot this powder, or put it in the stocking:

Powdered starch, 35 grains, oil of bergamot, ten drops; oil of lavender, 6 drops; oil of wintergreen, 16 drops. Mix well, and pass through a sieve. Excellent.—National Magazine.

Laundry work at home would be much more satisfactory if the right Starch were used. In order to get the desired stiffness, it is usually necessary to use so much starch that the beauty and fineness of the fabric is hidden behind a paste of varying thickness, which not only destroys the appearance, but also affects the wearing quality of the goods. This trouble can be entirely overcome by using Defiance Starch, as it can be applied much more thinly because of its greater strength than other makes.

The sudden death of Miss Lydia Kapple, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kapple of this place which occurred at her home at 5:15 o'clock Friday morning was a severe shock to the community. On Tuesday morning she complained of a severe pain in her head and back of neck but continued her sewing, the making of her wedding garments, until late in the afternoon when she grew worse. A physician was called and seemed to relieve her. On Thursday afternoon, however, she did not appear so well and Thursday evening a consultation of physicians was had and she was found to be afflicted with that dread disease, uraemic poisoning. Her physician, Dr. Palmer, stayed with her through the night, but in spite of all that medical aid could she grew rapidly worse until the end came quietly, the patient apparently passing from a natural slumber to the last deep sleep. Lydia was of a lovable disposition, kind and true and a decided favorite with all. Her wedding day was chosen for October 21st, when she was to be married to Mr. Fay Hamilton, a prominent young man of this locality, now a foreman of the Western Electric Company of Chicago. Miss Kapple was 21 years of age on August 11. Funeral services were held at the home at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, Rev. Love, pastor of the Episcopal church in Waukegan, officiating. Interment was in the Grayslake cemetery. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. The News unites with the entire community in extending sympathy to the sorrowing ones.

Awe of Greatness.
Literature grows feeble and conceited unless it ever recognizes the priority and superiority of life, and stands in genuine awe before the greatness of the men and of the ages which have simply lived.—Phillips Brooks.

Waste Before Want.
Hundreds would never have known want if they had not first known waste.—Spurgeon.

Out of Sight.
"Out of sight, out of mind," is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles too and chilblains disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by J. H. Swan, druggist. 25c.

Good Advice.
If you cannot be happy, give up thinking about yourself as one who is set in ways beyond turning, and take the bit in your teeth figuratively and set to work to make as many other people happy as possible.
